

ANSWER IS THE DRINK TRAFFIC

Why is it After 1900 Years of Christianity the Devil Has More Than Jesus Christ?

DR. R. J. PATTERSON SPEAKS

Originator of Catch-my-Pal Movement Explains How it Was Started Four Years.

The Catch-my-Pal temperance movement was introduced to the people of Rushville yesterday by Dr.
Patterson, of Belfast, Ireland, originator of the movement and known as Catch-my-Pal Patterson. Dr.
Patterson explained the wonderful results of the temperance movement to two large audiences—at the Mens' meeting in the afternoon and at the Christian church at night.

Dr. Patterson delivered practically the same address at both meetings. The evening address was cut short because he was forced to leave the city at 8:45 o'clock. Dr.
Patterson created an uproar when he asked if Rushville was "wet" or "dry." Some one in the audience answered that it was "wet" sometimes and "dry" part of the time.
He said that reminded him of the woman who was wringing out the towel. She was asked if it was wet or dry and she replied that it was neither wet nor dry but damp.

"So it is with your city," said Dr.
Patterson, "I suppose it is damp.
How is it that after 1900 years of Christianity it seems that the Devil has more power than Jesus Christ today? The answer is the drink traffic. You can drive liquor out of this country in five years if you men will go to work and do your duty for God and your country."

"This is my second visit to your great country," continued Dr. Patterson, "and last year I traveled 21,000 in the interests of the temperance Catch-my-Pal movement, which movement was started in my own parish, Armagh, four years ago, and has by the blessing of God become a world-wide movement. I am now working under the auspices of the National Reform association of Pittsburg. Please God I am to start a campaign in the great city of Chicago. As women have the vote in Illinois I am inclined to think that Chicago will go dry. If Chicago does go dry, I make the prophesy that it will become the pretest city in the United States, or even in the world."

nounced that he was a candidate for the Republican nomination for United States senator from Indiana.

mentioned for this place. He was the candidate for the nomination for governor in 1908.

PAINTS ROBERTS A REGULAR "ANGEL"

Attorney For Terre Haute Mayor
Says He's Very Exemplary

DOESN'T DRINK OR GAMBLE

(By United Press.)

Terre Haute, Ind., Mar. 30.—Declaring that the opposition of Mayor
Donn M. Roberts to the T. H. I. & E.
Traction company and to John E.
Lamb resulted in the charges of conspiracy to commit election frauds on which the mayor is being tried, Eph Inman, attorney for Roberts, made his opening statement to the jury today. Inman said that Roberts never used tobacco, never drank and gambled and that he was the best mayor the city ever had. He said Roberts was poor.

The traction company was termed a "tyrant." Roberts was pictured as a reformer. He took polling places from the "red light" district and placed them in schools and churches, Inman said.

SEEKS STATE OFFICE.

Newcastle, Ind., Mar. 28.—Judge
Ed Jackson of the Henry County
Circuit Court has announced himself a candidate for the nomination of secretary of state, subject to the decision of the Republican state convention. Judge Jackson is well known as a Republican organization worker. He retired as president of the Lincoln League of Indiana recently.

DELEGATION IS COMPLETE NOW

Democrats of County Complete Nomination of Delegates For District Convention Tomorrow.

A WARM CONTEST IN WALKER

Full Township Ticket is Placed in Field, Chief Interest Centering in Trustee Fight.

The first township nominating convention of the campaign was held Saturday in Homer, when the Democrats put out a full township ticket.
The fight for places on the ticket was a warm one, the chief interest centering on the township trustee nomination. Donald Mull of Homer was nominated on the first ballot over William Arbuckle and A. G. Abernathy. The vote was as follows:
Mull 108; Arbuckle, 79, and Abernathy 26.

J. E. Creed of Manilla was nominated for assessor over Bert Robinson. The men nominated for road supervisors were John Klingman, Beaty Westerfield, William R. Ormes and Cyrus Willey. The campaign waged was very warm and each of the various candidates made an active canvass for the nomination.

A school house fight entered into the question and for a time it was thought that the old custom of alternating between the west and east half of the township on the trusteeship, would be broken. Homer wanted the high school building and the present trustee, J. O. Shelton, went ahead and let the contract for the building so that it would remain in Manilla.

The Rush county delegation to the congressional convention to be held in Cambridge City tomorrow is complete, and while none of the township delegates were instructed, it is certain that the Rush county vote will be cast for Finly Gray, the present congressman. There is no opposition to Gray's nomination and the convention will be a mere formality. The Democrats at several of the township meetings over the district have endorsed Gray. At Cambridge City Saturday Gray was indorsed by the convention.

The Posey township convention was held Saturday night in the town hall at Arlington. Ollie Offutt was named delegate and Thomas Newhouse as alternate.

The Orange township meeting was held in Gowdy. August Ebbing was selected as the delegate and Braeken Wagoner as alternate.

In Center township Omer Abernathy was named as delegate and Bert Brenner as alternate. The meeting was held at the Center school house.

The Jackson township convention was held at the Kennings school house and James Dill was named as delegate and Charles Peak as alternate.

In Center township Omer
In Anderson township the delegate is Enoch Spurgeon and the alternate is Monroe Gloschen. The meeting was held in the Milroy school building was attended by a large crowd.

The Washington township meeting was held in Raleigh and Ben Black was named delegate and Frank Gordon alternate.

Ed Dolan was selected as delegate and Homer Nash as alternate from Union township. The meeting was held at the Gings school house
Saturday afternoon.

In Noble township James Mercer will act as delegate and Frank Wilson as alternate.

TO ENTERTAIN KENTUCKY MEN

Main Street Christian Sunday School
Will Have Winchester Officials
as Guests Next Sunday.

J. H. MACNEILL ONE OF THEM

Former Rushville Pastor Will Greet Old Friends—Superintendent and Teacher Are Coming.

"Kentucky Day" will be observed at the Main Street Christian Sunday school next Sunday when three officers of the Christian school of Winchester, Ky., which school Rushville defeated in a contest last summer, will be here. The Rev. J. H.
MacNeill, pastor of the Winchester church and formerly the pastor of the Christian church here; R. C.
Prewitt, superintendent of the school, and D. L. Pendleton, teachers of the Men's Bible class are coming.

The Main Street school is making great preparations for the entertainment of the guests from the "blue grass" state. The school would like to reciprocate for the cordial treatment accorded the Rev.
C. M. Yocum, pastor of the church here, and Hugh Mauzy, Sunday school superintendent, when the two went to Winchester a week ago Sunday.

The Winchester school made a special effort to get out a big crowd the Sunday the Rushville officers were their guests, and Rushville plans to do likewise. Winchester worked for a thousand people at Sunday school and got 720. Rushville has set its goal at a thousand and hopes to reach it.

The Rev. Mr. MacNeill will probably be greeted by a large crowd as he was one of the most popular ministers ever occupying a pulpit here and he still has a wide circle of friends here.

D. L. Pendleton teaches a men's class that is famed all over the country. He had 266 men in his class the day the Rev. Mr. Yocum and Hugh Mauzy were at Winchester. He is expecting to tell something of his work.

The superintendent of the local school said today that all persons not affiliated with some other school in the city were cordially invited to be present next Sunday morning at 9:15 o'clock. Natives or former residents of Kentucky are especially urged to be present and they will be seated in a body.

An elaborate musical program has been prepared for the Sunday school service.

METER SENT BACK TO CITY

But Report on its Condition Not Received.

The meter, which was taken by the meter inspector for the public service commission from the Indianapolis and Cincinnati traction company's station here to Indianapolis to be inspected, has been returned to the city but no report on its condition has been received. Superintendent Mahin expects a report any time now. The meter was evidently tested by the inspector as the readings showed that thirty-two cubic feet of water had passed through the meter since it left this city.

The United States patent office issued 993 patents during the year 1850, but last year the number reached 34,084.

WANT 1 FROM NORTH SIDE

Orange Township Would Like Little Variety in Trustees.

Politics is beginning to liven up in Orange township, according to reports from that community. There is reported to be a sentiment in both the Republican and Democratic parties favorable to a trustee from the north precinct. Heretofore the trustee has almost invariably been a resident of the south precinct. Wilbur Brown of the north precinct, a Democrat, has announced he is a candidate for trustee, but no Republican from that part of the township has yet declared himself. It is said, however, that some are considering entering the race.

SHOOTS CHILD AND SELF; ASKS PARDON

Mrs. Mattie M. Huffman, Housekeeper, Asked Mistress to Play
so as to Drown Report.

SHE DIES; DAUGHTER WILL DIE

(By United Press.)

Kokomo, Ind., Mar. 30.—While Mrs. R. G. White played a long and loud piano selection in the parlor
last night, Mrs. Mattie M. Huffman, housekeeper for Dr. and Mrs. White, took Thelma, here twelve-year-old daughter, upstairs, laid her on the bed and fatally shot her. She then killed herself.

She had asked Mrs. White to play this selection and it drowned out the report of the pistol.

Mrs. Huffman left two notes, one stating Mrs. White's apology and the other blaming her husband, from whom she is separated.

HELD FOR EMBEZZLING

Former Indiana Senator Accused of Using State Funds.

(By United Press.)

Madison, Wis., Mar. 30.—William L. Essmann, former superintendent of public utilities of the state and once state senator in Indiana, today pleaded not guilty to the charge of embezzling $417.10 of the state's money. His case was continued until April 15 and Essman was released under $2,000 bond.

ARGUMENT CLOSED TODAY

(By United Press.)

Chicago, Mar. 30.—"Handsome Jack" Kretters, on trial for the murder of Mrs. Emma Krast, was described as "the victim of unfortunate circumstances" by his attorney in the closing arguments this afternoon.

"Kretters was unfortunately connected with this murder because she gave him money and because of their love affair," he said. "Kretters was in New York the day of the murder."

CASE DISMISSED.

The case of John E. Patton against Brint Boling, demanding $125 on an account, was dismissed today in the circuit court and the costs paid. There was nothing of importance done in court as there was nothing set for trial. It is likely that there will be little tomorrow on account of the Democratic congressional convention in Cambridge City.

PRESIDENT IS ROILED BY FIGHT

Presents as "Crowning Insult" the Charge That His Administration Has Pact With England.

ATTITUDE ON TOLL REPEAL

Invalid Congressman Declares Great Britain is "Bulldozer"—Debate
Closes Tomorrow.

(By United Press.)

Washington, Mar. 30.—President Wilson today resented as "the crowning insult" the charge made on the floor of the House by Representative Knowland of California that the administration had entered into an agreement with Great Britain whereby tolls exemption was to be repealed in return for England's support of the administration Mexican policy.

He expressed deep regret that what had promised to be a dignified debate had seemed to degenerate into an organized attempt to discredit the administration. He insisted that this would make the repeal of the tolls exemption more certain.

He declared that his opponents were engaged in a campaign of misrepresentation. He said he believed there would be no disruption of the Democratic party.

Belief gained strength this afternoon that the speech of Speaker Clark late tomorrow would confine itself to the economic questions involved, thus averting the appearance of a breach in the party. The debate will continue until seven o'clock tonight, leaving four hours of discussion for tomorrow before the final vote.

Adamson and Covington will close tomorrow for those advocating repeal, intimating that their reply to Clark will depend entirely on whether he attacks the President.

Seated in an invalid's chair in front of the speaker's rostrum, Representative L'Elengle, a Democrat, this afternoon made a bitter speech against repeal. He is suffering with rheumatism.

"Great Britain is not a friend of this country's except when the advantage of that friendship dies with her," he declared. "Great are the English people, but Great Britain is the greatest bulldozer of history.

KING OF HOBOS WHO MADE HIS "MARK" HERE AND LEFT IT IS "REFORMED"

Cupid Climbs Under a Box Car and Jerks "A. No. 1" Off the Trucks
For His Business.

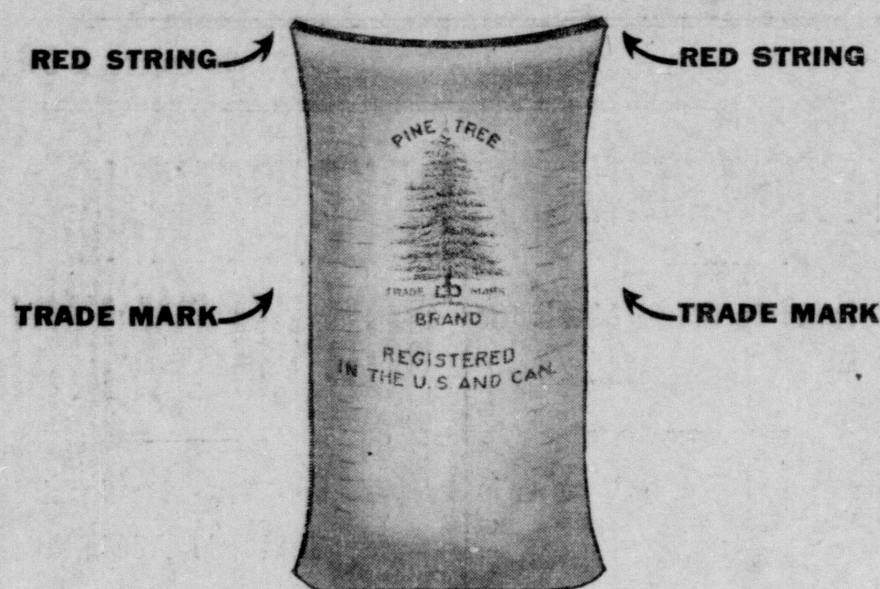

TRAMP VISITED HERE IN 1911

"A. No. 1," who made his "mark" here—and left it in various public places, has been "reformed." The world-famous hobo is married. This information is conveyed in a dispatch from Erie, Pa. The bride was Miss Mary Aigail Trohoski, age twenty years, a high school graduate and an accomplished musician.
"A. No. 1"—his true name has never been published, nor would he disclose it when he was in Rushville —visited this city July 11, 1911.

"A. No. 1" was the mark that he printed in most public places in Rushville. He always added the date and an arrow to show which way he traveled when he left. "A. No. 1" is alleged to be an author of some merit, and some of his books were placed on sale here.

The romance which led to his marriage happened in this wise. He rode the tracks into Erie one night and was almost frozen. He was routed by inspectors, but when they saw his plight, they gave him food and shelter. The hobo promised to return the favor and when he did, he was invited to the home of his future wife, whose father was one of three inspectors Cupid did the rest.

ON THE FLOOR OF FIERY VESUVIUS

American Tells of His Perilous Descent Amid Deadly Fumes.

FEAT THOUGHT IMPOSSIBLE.

Burlingham and His Companions Went Down Into Crater's Depths 1,212 Feet, With Death Dogging Every Step—Found Temperature of 600 Degrees Centigrade at Bottom.

Frederick Burlingham, the American who made a descent into the crater of Vesuvius on Dec. 21, has just told a more sensational story of his feat than was published when the news first came out in Naples.

Mr. Burlingham reached the extreme bottom of the crater, a depth of 1,212 feet, while the volcano was active at that depth. Professor Mercalli, director of the Vesuvius observatory, had believed this impossible.

Professor Malladra, who made a descent into the crater to a depth of 1,200 feet, says Burlingham's trip was the most dangerous ever attempted. He surmises from Burlingham's story that another part of the floor of the crater has collapsed, owing to the increasing activity of the volcano.

Professor Malladra, Professor Mercalli's assistant, made a descent into the crater in May last and obtained wonderful photographs of the interior. He had many narrow escapes from asphyxiation, but said he found also many spots where he could have pitched a tent and remained indefinitely. He found the floor of the crater to be at a depth of 987 feet from the mouth. The highest temperature he found was 295 degrees C.

Let Down by Rope.

Burlingham said that three Italians, Sonnino, Formassino and Gandino, aided him. They slept three nights on the top of the mountain waiting for a propitious moment for the descent. This came on Dec. 21. Ropes were launched over the precipice, and the descent began. On account of the steady wind making the descent very difficult Gandino remained on the edge of the second precipice to watch the ropes as the others descended.

"As my companions kept talking of danger," said Mr. Burlingham, "I volunteered to carry the cinematograph machine, which weighed nearly thirty pounds. I also had to carry the half plate camera. Sonnino carried the tripod, which weighed twenty pounds.

"While descending below the third precipice, almost immediately over the large sulphur fumerole, the wind changed, and we were enveloped in dense sulphur fumes. A cloud of dangerous acid fumes came next. We had taken the precaution to tie cloths around our faces. We stood motionless there for twenty minutes, breathing as little as possible, hoping for the fumes to pass.

"As they continued we decided to descend farther and eventually reached the floor of the crater by passing over a steep slope between the sulphurous fumerole and the main mouth of the crater, which was opened in July.

Look Lives In Their Hands.

"There was no immediate danger there, so we took a motion picture of the new crater and the precipitous surrounding walls. Then I suggested making a descent of 200 feet through the tunnel to the mouth. Sonnino, who is an expert on Vesuvius, warned me that the lives of all would be in danger, but we finally agreed to take the risk. "I continued to carry the cinema machine. We reached the edge of the opening, from which redhot smoke was issuing in a great volume. I estimated that the temperature was 600 degrees centigrade."

Frederick Burlingham arrived in Paris in 1906, joining the editorial staff of the Paris edition of the New York Herald as a reporter. He soon became a well known figure in American circles and greatly amused the Latin quarter, where he took up his residence, by his curious habits of dress. Having decided that shoes were unhealthy, he discarded them in favor of sandals, and with his long, flowing red beard he resembled in many ways a Benedictine monk.

BEST RATIONS FOR SOLDIERS.

Experimental Marches Show Benefits Derived From Bacon and Cheese.

A recent blue book report on British army dietetics deals with experimental marches in 1909 and 1910 and reports unfavorably on the field service ration for 1909, when the officers and men all lost weight. In the last five days of the march the average daily loss of weight among the men was just over half a pound and among the officers about three-quarters of a pound.

The report notes that the ration was deficient in energy value. It consisted of corned beef, biscuit, jam and a grocery ration of potatoes or cauliflower.

The committee found it impossible to increase the energy supply inside the limit of a ration weighing only three pounds without overconcentration. It cut out the potatoes, reducing the ration to two and a half pounds, and substituted bacon, cheese, oatmeal, additional jam and sugar. The result was that the march of 1910 showed excellent results, owing to fat supplied by bacon and cheese, and bulk furnished by the porridge.

WORLD'S GOLD AND SILVER.

Notable Decrease In Product of This Country, the Transvaal and Mexico.

George E. Roberts, director of the mint, estimates the world's production of gold last year at $453,000,000, approximately $11,000,000 less than in 1912. He places the silver production at 212,000,000 fine ounces, about 12,000,000 less than in 1912.

In the United States the production of gold fell off $5,000,000, chiefly in Alaska and Nevada. The Transvaal fell $5,000,000 behind its record of 1912. But for the miners' strike in June the Transvaal would have shown a moderate increase. Australasia lost $1,000,000, which is a continuation of a decline that has been going on for several years. Mexico's production fell off about $5,000,000, due to the war. Canada gained $2,700,000 in the production of gold and British India $1,000,000.

Among the many incidents which crowd rapidly upon one another, are the clever transfer of the necklace from one crook to another before the very eyes of the detective by means of a wine glass; a hand to hand fight in a gondola and a flight over the roofs of the houses of Rome, in which one thief loses his life. The scenes are actually photographed among some of the world's most historic scenes. Mariam Nesbit and Marc McDermitt take the principal leads and are supported by an unusually strong caste. Tomorrow the second of the "Adventures of Kathlyn" will be shown. In this installment are shown two remarkable and thrilling encounters with wild beasts. The blowing up of the lion's den is very exciting.

"Forward Lookers."

Senator John W. Kern is probably the acknowledged head of the "Forward Lookers" in the Democratic party in Indiana, but even John has a ghost locked up in his closet. It was John who was the supposed leader of the "F. Ls." at the Democratic state convention recently and was the inspired representative of the Wilson administration which demanded that the party in Indiana declare for a state-wide primary law.

But how about the Kern ghost? The Indiana State Journal calls attention to an interview with Senator Kern, by James B. Morrow, printed in the Indianapolis Star, and syndicated through many newspapers in the country, Sunday, December 26, 1909, as follows:

"I have been informed," I said, "that the brewers prevented your election to the United States senate?"

"That is true," replied Mr. Kern.

"The democratic newspapers and voters of Indiana favored my candidacy—the files of the newspapers are open to anyone, and the voters can be seen and questioned. Forty-four democratic members of the legislature openly gave me pledges of their support—their constituents required it. Forty-two votes were all I needed. When I seemed sure of the nomination the brewers suddenly manifested a lively interest in the situation. It was proposed that the democrats, meeting in caucus, cast a secret ballot. I understood what that meant—pledged members of the legislature could vote for the brewers' candidate, whoever he happened to be, and no one would know it. Eight men were purchased and the secret ballot went through. I received 36 votes and Benjamin F. Shively, attorney for the brewers, was nominated. And yet there are forty-four men who will make affidavit today that they gave me their support. I cannot prove bribery on anyone, but I think I know the names of the eight men who were bought up."

Senator Kern has never denied or questioned the authenticity of this interview. He appeared before the democratic state convention and endorsed the senator whom he thus publicly arraigned four years ago.

Signs Point to Relief Of Congestion In American Cities

By Dr. CHARLES W. ELIOT, President Emeritus Harvard University

THE inexpedient congestion of population in some American cities is not yet sensibly relieved, but there are many signs of improvement in this respect, such, for instance, as the placing of new industrial plants in the country or in small cities and making these plants moderate in size. The telephone and telegraph, the automobile, the parcel post and the local electric railways for both passengers and freight will surely relieve this congestion in time. Due consideration for the public health and the national efficiency requires the better distribution of factories and their operatives.

NOT A SINGLE ARGUMENT FOR FURTHER RESTRICTION OF IMMIGRATION HAVE I YET SEEN WHICH DOES NOT VIOLATE THE PLAINEST PRINCIPLES OF SOUND AMERICAN INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT AND ALSO PROPOSE TO ABANDON OR MAIM THE NOBLE POLICY OF THE UNITED STATES WHICH HAS MADE THIS COUNTRY THE REFUGE OF THE OPPRESSED, THE HOPE OF THE MULTITUDES WHO CANNOT YET FIND FREEDOM AND COMFORT IN THEIR NATIVE LANDS AND THE BEST SCHOOL IN THE WORLD FOR THE SAFE DEVELOPMENT OF FREE INSTITUTIONS.

Two Decisions of Supreme Court Have Killed Food and Drug Law

By Dr. HARVEY W. WILEY, Pure Food Expert

THE supreme court gave a body blow to the drug section of the law when it announced in the Johnson cancer case that the clause forbidding false and misleading statements APPLIED ONLY TO THE CONSTITUENTS OF THE MEDICINE AND NOT TO ITS DRUG PROPERTIES. Congress at once proceeded to correct the fault pointed out by enacting a clause as an amendment, bringing curative claims into the scope of the law.

I SINCERELY HOPE THAT SIMILAR ACTION WILL BE TAKEN IN THE CASE OF THE PRESENT DECISION. TO PERMIT THE UNRESTRICTED ADDITION OF POISONS TO FOODS UNLESS SUCH CAN BE SPECIFICALLY INJURIOUS PARALYZES THAT SECTION OF THE LAW RELATING TO HARMFUL ADULTERATIONS AS COMPLETELY AS THE FORMER DECISION PARALYZED THE DRUG SECTION.

In these two decisions the supreme court has KILLED THE FOOD AND DRUG LAW. Under the present decision a man may add traces of arsenic to food with impunity. Strychnine and other drugs of a poisonous character also can be thus added. The fault, according to the supreme court decision, consists in the phrase "which may prove harmful to health." The people should call upon congress immediately to STRIKE OUT THAT PHRASE.

Men Who Enlist as Soldiers Should Be Given Instruction In Trades

By HENRY H. DOAN, Major Medical Corps National Guard of Pennsylvania

FROM an economic point of view a man is but POORLY FITTED TO TAKE UP THE BURDEN OF LIFE after serving one or more enlistments in the cavalry or infantry. His record as a soldier may have been excellent, but there are but few things to which he may turn his hand in civil life. The demand for unskilled labor is much less than the supply.

I FEEL ASSURED THAT IF THE MEN WERE GIVEN INSTRUCTION IN THE TRADES MUCH OF THE PREJUDICE AGAINST THE SERVICE WOULD SOON BE FORGOTTEN. PARENTS WOULD BE ANXIOUS THAT THEIR SONS SHOULD ENLIST.

This instruction need interfere in no way with the duties incident to military work. An hour or two during the morning or afternoon under a competent instructor would make the average man a FAIRLY EFFICIENT MECHANIC by the time his enlistment would expire. Meanwhile he would have been kept out of all varieties of mischief, for while in garrison he has considerable idle time on his hands.

ALMOST ALL YOUNG AMERICANS TAKE NATURALLY TO THE SOLDIER BUSINESS FROM THE EARLIEST CHILDHOOD, FOR THERE IS SOMETHING PECULIARLY ATTRACTIVE ABOUT MILITARY LIFE COMMON TO ALL MEN WHO HAVE RED BLOOD IN THEIR VEINS, AND I AM OF THE OPINION THAT THE OPPORTUNITY OF LEARNING A TRADE AND AT THE SAME TIME OF BEING A SOLDIER WOULD APPEAL TO A LARGE NUMBER OF YOUTHS.

Future of Race Can Be Enhanced Only Through Character Building

By Professor A. L. KROEBER of Department of Anthropology, University of California

INDIVIDUAL ENDEAVOR AND HIGH IDEALS ARE THE ONLY THINGS THAT WILL MAKE BETTER HUMAN BEINGS. NINETY-NINE PER CENT OF WHAT IS COMMONLY ATTRIBUTED TO HEREDITY HAS NOTHING WHATEVER TO DO WITH IT AND IS MERELY A MATTER OF ENVIRONMENT.

Scientists have run riot with the idea until they fail to distinguish between heredity, which comes from the inside, and inheritance, which, like a fortune, comes from the outside. Civilization is an inheritance pure and simple, not caused in the slightest degree by heredity.

EUGENICS APPEAL TO MEN WHO ARE MORALLY LONG HAired AND TO THE WOMEN WHO ARE INTELLECTUALLY SHORT HAired. IT IS EASIER TO TALK OF BREEDING IMPROVED HUMAN BEINGS THAN TO BEGIN BY IMPROVING ONESELF AND TRAINING ONE'S CHILDREN. THE FUTURE OF THE HUMAN RACE CAN BE ENHANCED ONLY THROUGH CHARACTER BUILDING BY INDIVIDUALS AND COURAGEOUS ADHERENCE TO IDEALS BY NATIONS.

Obituary.

Virgil B. Bodine, son of Elisha and Mary Stiles Bodine, was born in Hamilton County, Ohio, near Montgomery, Nov. 14th, 1826, and died at his home in Rushville, Ind., March 11th 1914.

He removed with his parents to Dearborn County, Ind., in 1836. Went to Cincinnati in 1843, and united with the Fifth Presbyterian church in 1846, Rev. McDonald, pastor.

He was married in Cincinnati by Rev. McDonald, Jan. 23rd, 1849, to Darcas A. Pool, who preceded him to the "Home beyond" on Nov. 9th, 1902. To this union five children were born: Horace E., Virgil Clinton, George E., Ella M., and Florence A., now the wife of Rev. F. B. Stearns, the evangelist, all of whom excepting Horace and George who died in infancy, and one brother Jeremiah M., and one sister, Mrs. A. P. Wright, survive him.

He moved with his family to Rushville, Ind., April 5th, 1855, and united with the First Presbyterian church of that city by letter on the following Sabbath. Was elected an elder of this church in 1857. Moved back to Cincinnati in Feb. 1864, transferring his membership to the Central Presbyterian church, and worshipped with that congregation until Jan. 1867, when he returned to Rushville, bringing his letter to the Rushville Presbyterian Church and the same year was re-elected a ruling elder which office he held to the day of his death, a period of nearly sixty years.

This church also made him a life member of the American Bible Society. He often represented the interests of his church at Presbytery and Synod and was elected by Whitewater Presbytery as commissioner to the General Assembly in Baltimore in 1873, and again to the Assembly in Saratoga in 1879.

Mr. Bodine was actively identified with the business interests of Rushville from 1855 to 1908, except the three years spent in Cincinnati. In 1908, he sold his interest in the Boot and Shoe House of V. B. Bodine &

Son to his son V. C. Bodine. At the time of his retirement from business, he was the oldest man in point of business years in Rush County.

He served the people as trustee of Rushville Township from 1870 to 1873. He was one of the original movers for the establishment of a High School in Rushville, and member of the school board that organized Rushville's first and present High School system, that erected the old Graham High School building and called Prof. David Graham as its first superintendent.

He was initiated into the order of Odd Fellows in Cincinnati in 1852, transferring his membership in 1872 to the Rushville lodge, who assisted at his funeral.

At his request, Rev. George A. Beattie, D. D., of Atlanta Ga., who had been his pastor for seven years preached the funeral sermon, and officiated at his funeral, March 14th, assisted by Rev. J. B. Meacham, his present pastor.

The great profusion of floral offerings, and the large attendance at his funeral attested the high esteem and affection in which he was held by the church and the community.

He was a devoted, consecrated, christian man and unselfishly devoted to his family in a very marked degree. His genial, kindly and cheerful disposition, his neighborly ways, his sterling integrity, and his true manliness won for him confidence, respect and esteem of very many friends, and many are the hearts that are grieved at his loss.

In his business life, there was a plain straightforwardness and a sterling honesty that compel respect. He was always a champion of the best business, religious, fraternal and moral interests of his home city, and yet the cares and interests of business were never permitted to interfere with the business of the King. He gave liberally of his means, unsparingly of his time and unselfishly of his life to the church he so dearly loved, and to every good cause. He was a loyal Presbyterian, always at church and prayermeeting, and was one of the leading spirits in all of the activities of the church. During the past year, when confined to his room, his present pastor said of him, "He has helped me preach many a sermon, going as I often did to my pulpit from his room, or bedside, strengthened by his prayers like a benediction on my head."

He bore the pains of his prolonged illness with remarkable Christian faith and fortitude. His was a long life with abundant satisfactions; a life whose gentleness made it great; a rare life worthy of long remembrance.

3 GENERATIONS TO BE IN PARADE

Boy Scouts, Sons of Veterans and Veterans Will Be Represented At G. A. R. Encampment

ARRANGEMENTS COMPLETE

Annual Campfire Will be Held Second Night—10,000 Visitors Expected in Indianapolis

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, March 30—That three generations will for the first time parade at a G. A. R. encampment was made known today when the detailed program of the event was made public. Boy Scouts, Sons of Veterans and the veterans themselves will march here when the encampment is held May 6, 7 and 8. The Sons of Veterans will have charge of the encampment for the first time, this year, and also for the first time, the Boy Scouts, in many instances the sons of veterans, will participate.

Having in mind the advanced age of the veterans—all of them are past the three-score mark—Col. Frank Shellhouse in charge of the parade arrangements, has determined that the line of march shall be short enough so that it will take less than an hour to pass a given point. The veterans are feeble, and each parade threatens to be the last one.

A special committee of Boy Scouts will meet old comrades the opening day and escort them to the various headquarters.

The encampment is expected to bring more than 10,000 visitors to Indianapolis, for besides the G. A. R. and the Sons of Veterans, the encampments of the Woman's Relief Corps, the Ladies of the G. A. R. and the Ladies Auxiliary of the Sons of Veterans will be held simultaneously.

At two p. m. of the first day the W. R. C. will present the Lincoln Memorial Tablet with an appropriate program at the State House. From four to six p. m. there will be a reception by the W. R. C. and the Ladies of the G. A. R. to national and department commanders of the G. A. R. There will be music for these events by the Manual Training and Shortridge High school orchestra.

At eight p. m. an open meeting for all organizations and the public will be held in Tomlinson Hall. Former Mayor Charles A. Bookwalter will preside. Mayor Joseph E. Bell and Governor Samuel Ralston will deliver welcoming addresses. The address of welcome from the Ben Harrison Camp, No. 358, Sons of Veterans, will be delivered by Commander Jesse Martin. The invitation to the G. A. R. to attend the encampment as guests of the Sons of Veterans came from the Ben Harrison Camp.

There will response to the welcoming address by Former Judge Daniel Comstock, Indiana Commander of the G. A. R.; Mrs. Estella I. Huffman, department commander of the W. R. C.; Mrs. Elizabeth Howard, department president of the Ladies of the G. A. R.; Mrs. Emma Stuart Finch division president of the Sons of Veterans Auxiliary, and William Hensche, division commander of the Sons of Veterans. The response will be short and will be interspersed with musical numbers by Mrs. Lura S. Barr; Miss Martha Harvey, Danville; the Grand Army Quartet of Logansport, the Moorman Orchestra, and the Indianapolis Newsboys band.

The annual campfire will be held the night of the second day, with Department Commander Comstock presiding for the G. A. R. campfire and Past Division Commander Newton J. McGuire for the Sons of Veterans. The third day will be given over to the transaction of business and adjournment.

TELLS HOW MUCH TO FEED BABY

Machine Solves a Problem of Mothers the World Over.

REDUCED TO EXACT SCIENCE

Cornell Professor Before Physicians' Convention Demonstrates Wonderful Device—Physiologists Are Impressed by Report on Brain Discovery Made by Dr. John W. Crile of Cleveland.

Science, that indomitable force against which barriers heretofore impregnable are crumbling steadily and laying bare stores of vital knowledge, has at last mastered the problem of every mother—namely, the proper feeding of her baby. So it was announced by Dr. J. R. Murlin of Cornell university to the medical savants who attended the closing session of the three day convention of the Federation of American Societies For Experimental Biology at the University of Pennsylvania.

By a delicate system of chemical calculations, Dr. Murlin gave out, which he obtained after perfecting an incubator-like apparatus for the study of energy evolved by an infant's body, he has been able to determine scientifically the food requirements of the newly born infant, even of the premature baby.

To Study Baby's Needs.

The infant that is not responding to the customary diets can be put into the device, and an exact knowledge of just what nutritious substances he needs can be procured. Baby can play about in the boxlike machine just as the whim takes him. He can roll about, kick, cry, laugh, goosoo, sleep—anything that might be expected of him—but all the while that mystic process is going on.

Dr. Murlin explained that the constituents of the air inhaled and exhaled by the infant inside were measured chemically—how, only a man with the cipher of ten syllable words at his finger ends could understand. From these measurements it is a simple matter for the physician to prescribe for his little patient a diet that is bound to start him on his way to robustness.

Much the same kind of research work was reported by Dr. A. S. Loevenhart of the University of Wisconsin. He had a similar apparatus, respiration chamber, as it were, to work with as the one made by Dr. Murlin, though the former confined all his observations to small animals.

Dr. Crile's Brain Discovery.

The physiologists of the federation marveled at a discovery made by Dr. John W. Crile of Cleveland, who as one of the greatest surgeons in the country won international fame as the originator of local anaesthesia. Dr. Crile announced that after examining more than 700 brains he had been able to group certain organisms that were interdependent, co-ordinated with one another.

He called this group the "kinetic system" and named the brain, adrenal, thyroid gland, liver and pancreas syndrome as the organisms which composed it. He found by his experiments that whatever hurt one of these affected the others. Some sort of sympathetic relationship, he said, existed between them.

BAR "GOD," SAYS DR. ELIOT.

Would Substitute "Our Father" in New Faith Based on Fact.

Nothing so radical from a high source has appeared in years as the supplementary article on "The Future of Religion," which Dr. Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard, has prepared and which has been published by the American Unitarian association.

Dr. Eliot would take away the term "God" and use in its place "Our Father." His twentieth century Christianity does not believe in the garden of Eden. Dr. Eliot says God did not make man out of the dust of the ground, nor did he give into the hands of Moses the Ten Commandments; neither did the sun stand still for Joshua, nor did Jonah abide in the whale.

There will be no miracles in this twentieth century religion. "Men of science," says Dr. Eliot, "have no faith in magic or miracles."

The brotherhood of man will be the outcome of the new religion, declares the Harvard scholar.

The Abysmal Brute

CHAPTER X.

W HERE a jagged peak of rock thrust above the vast virgin forest reclined a man and a woman. Beneath them, on the edge of the trees, were tethered two horses. Behind each saddle were a pair of small saddlebags.

The trees were monotonously huge. Towering hundreds of feet into the air, they ran from eight to ten and twelve feet in diameter. Many were much larger.

All morning they had toiled up the divide through this unbroken forest, and this peak of rock had been the first spot where they could get out of the forest in order to see the forest.

Beneath them and away, far as they could see, lay range upon range of haze empurpled mountains. There was no end to these ranges. They rose one behind another to the dim, distant skyline, where they faded away with a vague promise of unending extension beyond.

There were no clearings in the forest. North, south, east and west, untouched, unbroken, it covered the land with its mighty growth.

They lay, feasting their eyes on the sight, her hand clasped in one of his, for this was their honeymoon, and these were the redwoods of Mendocino.

Across from Shasta they had come, with horses and saddlebags, and down through the wilds of the coast counties, and they had no plan except to continue until some other plan entered their heads.

They were roughly dressed—she in travel stained khaki, he in overalls and woollen shirt. The latter was open at the sunburned neck, and in his hugeness he seemed a fit dweller among the forest giants, while for her, as a dweller with him, there were no signs of aught else but happiness.

"Well, Big Man," she said, propping herself up on an elbow to gaze at him, "it is more wonderful than you promised. And we are going through it together."

"And there's a lot of the rest of the world, we'll go through together," he answered, shifting his position so as to get her hand in both of his.

"But not till we've finished with this," she urged. "I seem never to grow tired of the big woods—and of you."

He slid effortlessly into a sitting posture and gathered her into his arms. "Oh, you lover!" she whispered. "And I had given up hope of finding such a one."

"And I never hoped at all. I must just have known all the time that I was going to find you. Glad?"

Her answer was a soft pressure where her hand rested on his neck, and for long minutes they looked out over the great woods and dreamed.

"You remember I told you how I ran away from the red haired school-teacher? That was the first time I saw this country. I was on foot, but forty or fifty miles a day was play for me. I was a regular Indian."

"I wasn't thinking about you then. Game was pretty scarce in the redwoods, but there was plenty of fine

"It is more wonderful than you promised."

trout. That was when I camped on these rocks. I didn't dream that some day I'd be back with you—YOU!"

"And be a champion of the ring, too," she suggested.

"No; I didn't think about that at all. Dad had always told me I was going to be, and I took it for granted. You see, he was very wise. He was a great man."

"But he didn't see you leaving the ring."

"I don't know. He was so careful in hiding its crookedness from me that I think he feared it. I've told you about the contract with Stubener. Dad put in that clause about crookedness. The first crooked thing my manager did was to break the contract."

"And yet you are going to fight this Tom Cannam. Is it worth while?"

He looked at her quickly. "Don't you want me to?"

"Dear lover, I want you to do whatever you want."

So she said and to herself, her words still ringing in her ears, she marveled that she, not least among the stubbornly independent of the breed of Sangster, should utter them. Yet she knew they were true, and she was glad.

"It will be fun," he said. "But I don't understand all the glee-ful details."

"I haven't worked them out yet. You might help me. In the first place I'm going to double cross Stubener and the betting syndicate. It will be part of the joke. I am going to put Cannam out in the first round. For the first time I shall be really angry when I fight. Poor Tom Cannam, who's as crooked as the rest, will be the chief sacrifice."

"You see, I intend to make a speech in the ring. It's unusual, but it will be a success, for I am going to tell the audience all the inside workings of the game. It's a good game, too, but they're running it on business principles, and that's what spoils it. But there, I'm giving the speech to you instead of at the ring."

"I wish I could be there to hear," she said.

He looked at her and debated.

"I'd like to have you. But it's sure to be a rough time. There is no telling what may happen when I start my program. But I'll come straight to you as soon as it's over. And it will be the last appearance of young Glendon in the ring—in any ring."

"But, dear, you've never made a speech in your life," she objected. "You might fail."

He shook his head positively.

"I'm Irish," he announced, "and what Irishman was there who couldn't speak?"

He paused to laugh merrily.

"Stubener thinks I'm crazy. Says a man can't train on matrimony. A lot he knows about matrimony, or me, or you, or anything except real estate and fixed fights. But I'll show him that night, and poor Tom too. I really feel sorry for Tom."

"My dear abysmal brute is going to behave most abysmally and brutally, I fear," she murmured.

He laughed.

"I'm going to make a noble attempt at it. Positively my last appearance, you know. And then it will be you, YOU. But if you don't want that last appearance say the word."

"Of course I want it, Big Man. I want my Big Man for himself, and to be himself he must be himself. If you want this I want it for you and for myself too. Suppose I said I wanted to go on the stage or to the south seas or the north pole?"

He answered slowly, almost solemnly:

"Then I'd say go ahead. Because you are you and must be yourself and do whatever you want. I love you because you are you."

"And we're both a silly pair of lovers," she said when his embrace had relaxed.

"Isn't it great!" he cried.

He stood up, measured the sun with his eye and extended his hand out over the big woods that covered the serried, purple ranges.

"We've got to sleep out there somewhere. It's thirty miles to the nearest camp."

Who of all the sports present will ever forget the memorable night at the Golden Gate arena when young Glendon put Tom Cannam to sleep and an even greater one than Tom Cannam, kept the great audience on the ragged edge of riot for an hour, caused the subsequent graft investigation of the supervisors and the indictments of the contractors and the building commissioners and pretty generally disrupted the whole fight game?

It was a complete surprise. Not even Stubener had the slightest apprehension of what was coming. It was true that his man had been in subordinate after the Nat Powers affair and had run off and got married. But all that was over.

Young Pat had done the expected—swallowed the inevitable crookedness of the ring and come back into it again. The Golden Gate arena was new. This was its first fight, and it was the biggest building of the kind San Francisco had ever erected. It seated 25,000, and every seat was occupied. Sports had traveled from all over the world to be present, and they had paid $50 for their ringside seats. The cheapest seat in the house had sold for $5.

The old familiar roar of applause went up when Billy Morgan, the veteran announcer, climbed through the ropes and bared his gray head.

As he opened his mouth to speak, a heavy crash came from a near section where several tiers of low seats had collapsed. The crowd broke into loud laughter and shouted jocular regrets and advice to the victims, none of whom had been hurt.

The crash of the seats and the hilarious uproar caused the captain of police in charge to look at one of his lieutenants and lift his brows in token that they would have their hands full and a lively night.

One by one, welcomed by uproarious applause, seven doughty old ring heroes climbed through the ropes to be introduced. They were all ex-heavy-weight champions of the world.

Billy Morgan accompanied each presentation to the audience with an appropriate phrase. One was hailed as "Honest John" and "Old Reliable;" another was "the squarest two fisted fighter the ring ever saw."

And of others: "The hero of a hundred battles and never threw one and never laid down;" "the gamest of the old guard;" "the only one who ever came back;" "the greatest warrior of them all;" and "the hardest nut in the ring to crack."

All this took time. A speech was insisted on from each of them, and they mumbled and muttered in reply with proud blushes and awkward shambblings.

The longest speech was from "Old Reliable" and lasted nearly a minute. Then they had to be photographed. The ring filled up with celebrities, with champion wrestlers, famous conditioners and veteran timekeepers and referees.

Lightweights and middleweights swarmed. Everybody seemed to be challenging everybody.

Nat Powers was there demanding a return match from young Glendon, and so were all the other shining lights whom Glendon had snuffed out. Also they all challenged Jim Hanford, who, in turn, had to make his statement, which was to the effect that he would accord the next fight to the winner of the one that was about to take place. The audience immediately proceeded to name the winner, half of it wildly crying "Glendon" and the other half "Powers."

In the midst of the pandemonium another tier of seats went down, and half a dozen rows were on between cheated ticket holders and the stewards who had been reaping a fat harvest.

The captain dispatched a message to headquarters for additional police details.

The crowd was feeling good. When Cannam and Glendon made their ring entrances the arena resembled a national political convention. Each was cheered for a solid five minutes.

The ring was now cleared. Glendon sat in his corner surrounded by his seconds. As usual Stubener was at his back.

Cannam was introduced first, and after he had scraped and ducked his head he was compelled to respond to the cries for a speech. He stammered and halted, but managed to grind out several ideas.

"I'm proud to be here tonight," he said, and found space to capture another thought while the applause was thundering. "I've fought square. I've fought square all my life. Nobody can deny that. And I'm going to do my best tonight."

There were loud cries of "That's right, Tom!" "We know that!" "Good boy, Tom!" "You're the boy to fetch the bacon home!"

originating in the most ancient Christian city in the British Islands. Dr. Patterson said he was the successor to St. Patrick who drove the snakes out of Ireland, but declared that was one snake he did not drive out, one of the most deadly, treacherous, sneaky and venomous of snakes in Irish moss or American sage brush—whiskey.

"The club that God put in my hand," he added in part, "was the Catch-my-Pal movement, known under my name. When Father Curran, started his temperance movement, there was a Father Sheehan who started a branch in Armagh. He told me repeatedly that he had no secret as to how he brought men in to the temperance movement. But I buttonholed him one day, and in a rich Irish brogue Father Sheehan said his secret was that 'the min, begorra, belaved him ter be in earnest'."

Dr. Patterson related how a John Elliott in his parish pointed out to him one evening five of the worst drunkards loafing under a lamp post as subjects for his good offices for temperance. He thereupon took John along and talked to these men.

"How was Andrew caught? By Christ. How was Philip and Nathaniel caught? By Andrew. Did not Christ catch the woman at Samaria for purity, and did not this woman catch her relatives and friends and bring them to the Lord? I caught my pals for Jesus Christ, on July 6, 1909 under that lamp post," said Dr. Patterson.

"Elliott told me to go to these men for a joke but it turned to the glory of God. From Friday evening, July 6, 1909, the time I saw those men and got a heart-to-heart talk with them, until Friday July 13, the night, at the sound of the curfew, I prayed as I never prayed before, the men came. It is the moderate drinker

Here is Good News For Stomach Victims

Some very remarkable results are being obtained by treating stomach, liver and intestinal troubles with pure vegetable oils, which exert a cleansing, soothing and purifying action upon the lower bowels, removing the obstructions of poisonous fecal matter and gases and preventing their absorption by the blood. This done, the food is allowed free passage from the stomach, fermentation ceases and stomach troubles quickly disappear.

George H. Mayr, for twenty years a leading Chicago druggist, cured himself and many of his friends of stomach, liver and intestinal troubles of years' standing by this treatment, and so successful was the remedy he devised that it has since been placed in the hands of druggists all over the country, who have sold thousands of bottles.

Though absolutely harmless, the effect of the medicine is sufficient to convince any one of its remarkable effectiveness, and within 24 hours the sufferer feels like a new person. Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy is now sold here by F. E. Wolcott.

that is the curse of his country. If there were no moderate drinkers there would be no immoderate drinkers. This is what makes the drunkard. If all moderate drinkers would sign pledges, the backbone of the liquor traffic would be broken in the United States.

"The first pledge I gave these men was that of total abstinence. They were then to go out and catch the biggest drunkard they could find. You too are your brother's keeper. I would not allow any of those six men to sign unless they agreed to go out and catch their pals."

Dr. Patterson then told of the rapid growth of the movement. "From six men the movement went on to thirty-one more caught by the beginners. These thirty-one were the terrors of their homes and little children. They were the damnation of the little ones. Yet these men were made the instruments to save others. Now you people here, can't you help along your brothers? You cannot love God with your heart, soul, mind and strength, unless you love your neighbor as yourself. Those thirty-one boys brought in 105. They caught their pals. Those men walked single file into my hallway. After they signed the pledge they cheered. People thought we were having a good time. And so we were. The best of all times."

"We will see this thing through," was adopted as a slogan. The Little button, with 'Catch-my-Pal' and 'Total Abstinence' on it, was worn when the first branch was formed. In six weeks, more than 600 men were brought in. The wives and children began to be happy. The merchants did more business with these reformed men. The saloons in Armagh began to be idle on Saturday pay nights. In this city of 8,000 people there were seventy-two saloons.

"I have noticed the American public standing in front of a baseball score board watching the little electric bulbs tell the plays as they occurred. These people took a great interest in this germ. If the people in this country took one-half as much interest in the game of Christ as they did in baseball, the United States would pass through the greatest revolution the world ever witnessed."

"We held weekly recruiting meetings. Soon 400 branches were formed. Then the membership grew; first 500 at Bainbridge, then 525 at Ballina, until 1150 was reached. Among them were five reformed jail birds. There was a reduction in drunkenness and crime, and 50 per cent. reduction in cases of cruelty to children."

In conclusion Dr. Patterson asked all to take the pledge and to repeat the slogan, "We Will See This Through." He asked that all in favor of a saloonless nation by 1920 arise and the vote was unanimous.

Samuel L. Trabue presided at the Mens' meeting and James E. Watson introduced the speaker at the evening meeting.

Before starting on his address last night, Dr. Patterson explained his position on the Home Rule. He stated that all Irish protestants are opposed to it. He explained that there are one million protestants and three million Catholics in Ireland. He stated that the Protestants pay three fourths of the taxes and would be represented in the new parliament under home rule by one-fourth. He stated that it was the same proposition as the United States had to contend with England before they rebelled. According to Dr. Patterson, the home rule in Ireland would mean taxation without representation to the Protestants, and because of this he was opposed to it.

and enjoy life whether in the home or business world if they can keep at bay those ailments peculiar to their sex. If every woman realized how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, that simple remedy made from roots and herbs, goes to the root of the trouble and overcomes such symptoms as backache, head aches, nervousness and irritability, they would be healthier, happier and stronger. DORMITORY MEN IN ORGANIZATION

Forty-two at Indianapolis Y. M. C. A Band Together and Meet Once Each Month

FEED IS ONE OF FEATURES.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, March 30.—Forty-two men living in the Y. M. C. A. dormitory here have banded together in a compact organization to meet once every month for dinner at the association cafe. The purpose of the meetings will be three-fold: To develop congenial fellowship among the dormitory men; to promote social and educational fellowship, and to encourage the spirit of brotherhood generally.

At each of these meetings a guest of honor will be present to address the young men on current subjects. With this drawing card and the promise of "good eats at 35 cents a plate" the men are expected to turn out.

Various schemes have been tried to interest the dormitory men in club life, but with indifferent success. As a rule they are young business or professional men. There are a few students. They have formed their acquaintances away from the association, and spend their evenings away from there to a great extent. For this reason, it has been hard to interest them in association social functions.

BOY IS HORRIBLY SCALDED

Everett Loudermilk of Spiceland Will Probably Not Recover.

Not much hope is held out for the recovery of Everett Loudermilk, age 12 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Loudermilk of Spiceland, who fell backwards into a vat of boiling sugar water at a sugar camp near Spiceland. The boy's screams of pain brought assistance at once, but his body could not be pulled from the vat before he was horribly burned. A doctor was summoned at once, but could not do much to relieve the pain. Little hope is held out for the recovery of the boy.

ECONOMIC LOSS IN SICKNESS

Dr. Hurty Believes That it Should be Watched Like Any Other Business—Gives Example

SHOWS ONE MAN LOST $10,000

Should Use Precaution Against Disease Because of Pecuniary Reasons and Effects

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., March 30.—Dr. J. N. Hurty, state health commissioner, who is fighting disease as an employe of the state, believes that aside from the pain and loss of life there is a big economic loss when a family is swept by sickness. He emphasizes his belief that the farmer or banker who watches carefully after the health of his hogs or the prosperity of his neighborhood should for the same pecuniary reason insist on precaution against loss from sickness:

SMITH AND HIS TYPHOID

BY DR. J. N. HURTY.

His name was Smith. He lived in Indiana. He was a farmer. His house was built flat upon the ground. No underneath ventilation. There was a small cellar. It was musty. Vegetables, rotten and unrotten were stored in it. The house was heated by an "air-tight" stove. All windows were fastened down. All window cracks were calked with rags.

The barn was 328 feet from the kitchen door. There was a big pile of manure against the barn. There were maggots in the manure. Flies, thousands of flies, were born in this manure. In the barnyard were cows and pigs. They waded in barn-yard pulp. Just 53 feet from the kitchen door was a privy. It was dilapidated. Clouds of flies surrounded it.

Under the back porch was a dug well. Smith didn't know its depth. An old sock was stretched over the pump spout. It was there to strain out worms and little water bugs. The water had a funny taste. A garbage tub stood just outside the kitchen door. There were maggots in it. Flies were born by thousands.

One day Smith's daughter came down with typhoid fever. A doctor was employed. Medicines were purchased. Mrs. Smith did the nursing. She also cooked for her husband, her son and a hired man. Mrs. Smith was worn out. She took typhoid. The daughter died. Mrs. Smith died. The son took typhoid, he survived. When Mrs. Smith took down a nurse was employed. She stayed after Mrs. Smith died to nurse the son.

The cost. Doctor bills $410.00. Two funerals $416. Court value of the mother's life (average court judgment) $4,600. Court value of the son's life $5,000. Loss of time (estimated) $300. Total $10,889.60. Does it pay to be insanitary? Does induced sickness and early death tend to produce wealth and happiness?

What Hises Sound Like to an Actor.

In the American Magazine David Warfield, giving his stage experiences, tells how terrible it is from the actor's point of view to be hissed:

"I next appeared at the Wigwam, telling stories and giving imitations. I came a terrible cropper, something fearful. I was second in the bill, which is the worst place but one. I shall never forget the anxiety I felt on that occasion as I stood in the wings waiting for my turn to go on. At last I appeared before the footlights. The audience was drifting in, shuffling in in a desultory way. I could not get its attention. It was awful, awful. The few friends I had there applauded me, but the others hissed. It sounded as if 10,000 steam pipes had burst. A hiss to a sensitive man—and all actors are sensitive since all are vain—is like the strike of a rattlesnake. It is so venomous, so cruel, so unnecessary! It is as if you had done the people out in front an injury with malice prepense instead of having sincerely tried to please them. You don't even dare to face your own mother; you're so dreadfully guilty."

around the world seeking whom he can scare and tossing himself into every place of advantage by bluster and bluff."

"Americans champions of Great Britain" have sought to "manufacture sentiment" and actively lobbied to repeal the Panama canal tolls exemption for American coastwise shipping, Representative Doremus of Michigan, a leading Democrat today declared in the house Chairman of the Democratic national congressional campaign committee, his speech in open opposition to President Wilson was second only in importance on the Democratic side to that of Leader Underwood during the free tolls fight.

"It is a source of much regret that I do not find myself in harmony with the president," Doremus said, "because of the great respect I entertain for him and the admiration I feel for his splendid ability, sincerity and patriotism, my inclination is always to follow him. By reason, however, of convictions formed long ago, and which I still entertain, I feel it my duty to oppose this bill."

"After the law was passed it was boldly proclaimed that we had violated our treaty with Great Britain. With these men it mattered not that Great Britain had practically admitted our right to make the exemption. After this, the task imposed upon American champions of Great Britain was certainly a stupendous one."

That the Carnegie peace endowment was the prime mover was charged by Doremus.

"This self-constituted guardian of the national honor was sandbagging the department's efforts by vigorously upholding the British view," he said, "the Carnegie peace endowment as an institution does not justify its right to exist by antagonizing our own government in an international controversy."

"I repudiate and denounce the attempts made in this country to convince the people that the United States is an outlaw among the nations."

Doremus charged that the trans-continental railroads would be the beneficiaries and the people the victims of the repeal.

"If the American people had suspected that the Hay-Pauncefote treaty gave Great Britain equal rights with us not a shovelfull of dirt would have been turned on the isthmus."

Sacred Deer.

From time immemorial deer have been held in reverent regard by the Japanese. Herds are kept in compounds, and the highest respect is paid to the animals. In olden times the shogun gave the people such a strict order to protect the sacred animals that if any one happened to hurt or kill them he was put to death on the spot. It was a period of terror. Even at the present day the deer are so tame and abundant in the shrine grounds that they in fine weather stroll round to the streets by twos and threes and surround passersby, asking for food and even taking the persons' sleeves in their mouths affectionately. Once a year some of the deer are caught by means of a net with a handle by several tamers (in service of the Kasuga shrine office) and taken to an inclosure, where their splendid horns are cut off with a saw, while a crowd of spectators watch the work with breathless interest (admission 10 sen, equal to about 5 cents). This done, some of the sacred horns are, as a custom, awarded to the spectators by means of lottery.

Disillusion.

The unmarried woman who shall be the subject of this anecdote was fixing herself up to go out in the evening. A certain man was going to call for her, and though the occasion was somewhat spoiled by the fact that they would have to take her little niece along she nevertheless took the usual care of her complexion, hair and eyes, for the man was trembling on the verge of a proposal. The trio—auntie, auntie's beau and auntie's niece—walked along the street until they came to one of those all night photograph galleries. You know how awful a person looks standing in the ghastly glare of the mercury tube lights that they put in the windows of such places? Well, they paused in that awful greeny-yellow light. And the little niece said to auntie's beau:

"Ooo-oooh, look! Auntie looks just like she does when she first gets up in the morning!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

E. R. CASADY HOLDS BIG SPRING OPENING TODAY.

E. R. Casady's annual spring opening this afternoon attracted a big crowd to the store where on the second floor the latest fashions in women's ready-to-wear garments were shown on living models.

The store was most tastefully decorated. Natural ferns and wild roses were used to good advantage and expressed the sprightliness and freshness of the spring season, as did the showings in women's wearing apparel.

White arbors adorned the windows and wound about them were wreaths of wild roses which were beautiful in striking contrast to the colorings in the women's garments which were displayed in the windows.

White lattice work, covered with roses, which was run along the edge and hung from the top of the first floor, took away all the barrenness that naturally attaches to a high ceiling. The ledges on this floor were attractively arrayed in the latest showings in carpets and rugs, dress goods and muslin underwear.

The lattice work was used with the same pleasing effect in the front part of the second floor where the style show was to take place, but because of the crowd, the showing had to be made downstairs. On the ledges here as downstairs goods were displayed to excellent advantage. Chairs were arranged around the sides and down the center of the room for the guests.

Musie on the first floor was furnished by Wagoner's orchestra and on the second floor there was a graphanola. Favors of sweet peas, obtained in a local green house, were distributed by Miss Rita Readle and Miss Frances Neutzenhelzer.

The models were Miss Pauline Felts, Miss Marie Clawson, Mrs. Ruby Davis, Mrs. L. E. Wallace and Miss Phyllis Casady, daughter of E. R. Casady.

MAYOR IS ON OPPOSITION

(By United Press.)

Evansville, Ind., March 30.—Following speeches to be made here tomorrow by Clifford G. Roe of Chicago, former prosecutor there, the local vice committee, appointed a year ago by the churches, will probably announce what plans, if any, it will attempt to follow out. It is suggested that the committee may ask Mayor Bosse to wipe out the segregated. Should the committee decide on this course, it is believed it would fail, for the mayor has gone on record as opposed to any other plan than that of segregation.

Roe was active in Chicago during the white slave investigation. He will speak in the afternoon and evening. The ministers are planning to ask Roe's advice.

Why is it After 1900 Years of Christianity the Devil Has More Than Jesus Christ?

DR. R. J. PATTERSON SPEAKS

Originator of Catch-my-Pal Movement Explains How it Was Started Four Years.

The Catch-my-Pal temperance movement was introduced to the people of Rushville yesterday by Dr. Patterson, of Belfast, Ireland, originator of the movement and known as Catch-my-Pal Patterson. Dr. Patterson explained the wonderful results of the temperance movement to two large audiences—at the Mens' meeting in the afternoon and at the Christian church at night.

Dr. Patterson delivered practically the same address at both meetings. The evening address was cut short because he was forced to leave the city at 8:45 o'clock. Dr. Patterson created an uproar when he asked if Rushville was "wet" or "dry." Some one in the audience answered that it was "wet" sometimes and "dry" part of the time. He said that reminded him of the woman who was wringing out the towel. She was asked if it was wet or dry and she replied that it was neither wet nor dry but damp.

"So it is with your city," said Dr. Patterson, "I suppose it is damp. How is it that after 1900 years of Christianity it seems that the Devil has more power than Jesus Christ today? The answer is the drink traffic. You can drive liquor out of this country in five years if you men will go to work and do your duty for God and your country."

"This is my second visit to your great country," continued Dr. Patterson, "and last year I traveled 21,000 in the interests of the temperance Catch-my-Pal movement, which movement was started in my own parish, Armagh, four years ago, and has by the blessing of God become a world-wide movement. I am now working under the auspices of the National Reform association of Pittsburgh. Please God I am to start a campaign in the great city of Chicago. As women have the vote in Illinois I am inclined to think that Chicago will go dry. If Chicago does go dry, I make the prophecy that it will become the proudest city in the United States, or even in the world."

HUGH MILLER A CANDIDATE

Announces Today he Will Seek Republican Nomination For Senate.

(By United Press.)

Columbus, Ind., Mar. 30.—Hugh Th Miller of this city today announced that he was a candidate for the Republican nomination for United States senator from Indiana. The candidate will be selected at the state convention which will be held in Indianapolis April 22 and 23. Mr. Miller has been frequently mentioned for this place. He was the candidate for the nomination for governor in 1908.

PAINTS ROBERTS A REGULAR "ANGEL"

Attorney For Terre Haute Mayor Says He's Very Exemplary Young Man and Offers Proof.

(By United Press.)

Terre Haute, Ind., Mar. 30.—Declaring that the opposition of Mayor Donn M. Roberts to the T. H. I. & E. Traction company and to John E. Lamb resulted in the charges of conspiracy to commit election frauds on which the mayor is being tried, Eph Inman, attorney for Roberts, made his opening statement to the jury today. Inman said that Roberts never used tobacco, never drank and gambled and that he was the best mayor the city ever had. He said Roberts was poor.

The traction company was termed a "tyrant." Roberts was pictured as a reformer. He took polling places from the "red light" district and placed them in schools and churches, Inman said.

SEEKS STATE OFFICE.

Newcastle, Ind., Mar. 28.—Judge Ed Jackson of the Henry County Circuit Court has announced himself a candidate for the nomination of secretary of state, subject to the decision of the Republican state convention. DELEGATION IS COMPLETE NOW Democrats of County Complete Nomination of Delegates For District Convention Tomorrow.

A WARM CONTEST IN WALKER

Full Township Ticket is Placed in Field, Chief Interest Centering in Trustee Fight.

The first township nominating convention of the campaign was held Saturday in Homer, when the Democrats put out a full township ticket. The fight for places on the ticket was a warm one, the chief interest centering on the township trustee nomination. Donald Mull of Homer was nominated on the first ballot over William Arluecke and A. G. Abernathy. The vote was as follows: Mull 108; Arluecke, 79, and Abernathy 26.

J. E. Creed of Manilla was nominated for assessor over Bert Robinson. The men nominated for road supervisors were John Klingman, Beaty Westerfield, William R. Ormes and Cyrus Willey. The campaign waged was very warm and each of the various candidates made an active canvass for the nomination.

A school house fight entered into the question and for a time it was thought that the old custom of alternating between the west and east half of the township on the trusteeship, would be broken. Homer wanted the high school building and the present trustee, J. O. Shelton, went ahead and let the contract for the building so that it would remain in Manilla.

The Rush county delegation to the congressional convention to be held in Cambridge City tomorrow is complete, and while none of the township delegates were instructed, it is certain that the Rush county vote will be cast for Finly Gray, the present congressman. There is no opposition to Gray's nomination and the convention will be a mere formality. The Democrats at several of the township meetings over the district have endorsed Gray. At Cambridge City Saturday Gray was endorsed by the convention.

The Posey township convention was held Saturday night in the town hall at Arlington. Ollie Offutt was named delegate and Thomas Newhouse as alternate.

The Orange township meeting was held in Gowdy. August Ebbing was selected as the delegate and Bracken Wagoner as alternate.

In Center township Omer Abernathy was named as delegate and Bert Brenner as alternate. The meeting was held at the Center school house.

The Jackson township convention was held at the Kennings school house and James Dill was named as delegate and Charles Peak as alternate.

In Center township Omer In Anderson township the delegate is Enoch Spurgeon and the alternate is Monroe Glosken. The meeting was held in the Milroy school building was attended by a large crowd.

The Washington township meeting was held in Raleigh and Ben Black was named delegate and Frank Gordon alternate.

Ed Dolan was selected as delegate and Homer Nash as alternate from Union township. The meeting was held at the Gings school house Saturday afternoon.

In Noble township James Mercer will act as delegate and Frank Wil-

TO ENTERTAIN KENTUCKY MEN

Main Street Christian Sunday School Will Have Winchester Officials as Guests Next Sunday.

J. H. MACNEILL ONE OF THEM

Former Rushville Pastor Will Greet Old Friends—Superintendent and Teacher Are Coming.

"Kentucky Day" will be observed at the Main Street Christian Sunday school next Sunday when three officers of the Christian school of Winchester, Ky., which school Rushville defeated in a contest last summer, will be here. The Rev. J. H. MacNeill, pastor of the Winchester church and formerly the pastor of the Christian church here; R. C. Prewitt, superintendent of the school, and D. L. Pendleton, teachers of the Men's Bible class are coming.

The Main Street school is making great preparations for the entertainment of the guests from the "blue grass" state. The school would like to reciprocate for the cordial treatment accorded the Rev. C. M. Yocum, pastor of the church here, and Hugh Mauzy, Sunday school superintendent, when the two went to Winchester a week ago Sunday.

The Winchester school made a special effort to get out a big crowd the Sunday the Rushville officers were their guests, and Rushville plans to do likewise. Winchester worked for a thousand people at Sunday school and got 720. Rushville has set its goal at a thousand and hopes to reach it.

The Rev. Mr. MacNeill will probably be greeted by a large crowd as he was one of the most popular ministers ever occupying a pulpit here and he still has a wide circle of friends here.

D. L. Pendleton teaches a men's class that is famed all over the country. He had 266 men in his class the day the Rev. Mr. Yocum and Hugh Mauzy were at Winchester. He is expecting to tell something of his work.

The superintendent of the local school said today that all persons not affiliated with some other school in the city were cordially invited to be present next Sunday morning at 9:15 o'clock. Natives or former residents of Kentucky are especially urged to be present and they will be seated in a body.

An elaborate musical program has been prepared for the Sunday school service.

METER SENT BACK TO CITY

But Report on its Condition Not Received.

The meter, which was taken by the meter inspector for the public service commission from the Indianapolis and Cincinnati traction company's station here to Indianapolis to be inspected, has been returned to the city but no report on its condition has been received. Superintendent Mahin expects a report any time now. The meter was evidently tested by the inspector as the readings showed that thirty-two cubic feet of water had passed through the meter since it left this city.

The United States patent office issued 993 patents during the year 1913, but last year the number reached 34,084.

Orange Township Would Like Little Variety in Trustees.

Politics is beginning to liven up in Orange township, according to reports from that community. There is reported to be a sentiment in both the Republican and Democratic parties favorable to a trustee from the north precinct. Heretofore the trustee has almost invariably been a resident of the south precinct. Wilbur Brown of the north precinct, a Democrat, has announced he is a candidate for trustee, but no Republican from that part of the township has yet declared himself. It is said, however, that some are considering entering the race.

SHOOTS CHILD AND SELF; ASKS PARDON

Mrs. Mattie M. Huffman, Housekeeper, Asked Mistress to Play so as to Drown Report.

SHE DIES; DAUGHTER WILL DIE

(By United Press.)

Kokomo, Ind., Mar. 30.—While Mrs. R. G. White played a long and loud piano selection in the parlor last night, Mrs. Mattie M. Huffman, housekeeper for Dr. and Mrs. White, took Thelma, here twelve-year-old daughter, upstairs, laid her on the bed and fatally shot her. She then killed herself.

She had asked Mrs. White to play this selection and it drowned out the report of the pistol.

Mrs. Huffman left two notes, one stating Mrs. White's apology and the other blaming her husband, from whom she is separated.

Former Indiana Senator Accused of Using State Funds.

(By United Press.)

Madison, Wis., Mar. 30.—William L. Essmann, former superintendent of public utilities of the state and once state senator in Indiana, today pleaded not guilty to the charge of embezzling $417.10 of the state's money. His case was continued until April 15 and Essmann was released under $2,000 bond.

ARGUMENT CLOSED TODAY

(By United Press.)

Chicago, Mar. 30.—"Handsome Jack" Kretters, on trial for the murder of Mrs. Emma Krast, was described as "the victim of unfortunate circumstances" by his attorney in the closing arguments this afternoon.

"Kretters was unfortunately connected with this murder because she gave him money and because of their love affair," he said. "Kretters was in New York the day of the murder."

CASE DISMISSED.

The case of John E. Patten against Brint Boling, demanding $125 on an account, was dismissed today in the circuit court and the costs paid. There was nothing of importance done in court as there was nothing set for trial. It is likely that there will be little tomorrow on account of the Democratic congressional convention in Cambridge City.

PRESIDENT IS ROILED BY FIGHT

Presents as "Crowning Insult" the Charge That His Administration Has Pact With England.

ATTITUDE ON TOLL REPEAL

Invalid Congressman Declares Great Britain is "Bulldozer"—Debate Closes Tomorrow.

(By United Press.)

Washington, Mar. 30.—President Wilson today resented as "the crowning insult" the charge made on the floor of the House by Representative Knowland of California that the administration had entered into an agreement with Great Britain whereby tolls exemption was to be repealed in return for England's support of the administration Mexican policy.

He expressed deep regret that what had promised to be a dignified debate had seemed to degenerate into an organized attempt to discredit the administration. He insisted that this would make the repeal of the tolls exemption more certain.

He declared that his opponents were engaged in a campaign of misrepresentation. He said he believed there would be no disruption of the Democratic party.

Belief gained strength this afternoon that the speech of Speaker Clark late tomorrow would confine itself to the economic questions involved, thus averting the appearance of a breach in the party. The debate will continue until seven o'clock tonight, leaving four hours of discussion for tomorrow before the final vote.

Adamson and Covington will close tomorrow for those advocating repeal, intimating that their reply to Clark will depend entirely on whether he attacks the President.

Seated in an invalid's chair in front of the speaker's rostrum, Representative L'Engle, a Democrat, this afternoon made a bitter speech against repeal. He is suffering with rheumatism.

"Great Britain is not a friend of this country's except when the advantage of that friendship dies with her," he declared. "Great are the English people, but Great Britain is the greatest bulldozer of history. John Bull has been rampaging

The Portola will show a two reel Pathe drama "The Sword of Damocles" for the first picture tonight. It is said to be a stupendous production and shows several beautiful scenes. The other is a Biograph comedy entitled "Just Boys." Friday night of this week the six reel production "The Battle of Waterloo" will be shown.

The Gem offers the sensational four reel feature "Absinthe" for tonight's program. It is said to be a remarkable picture and features King Baggott and Leah Baird. Baggott is seen in the role of the absinthe fiend and the picture is said to tell a strong moral lesson. Tomorrow night the two reel Victor drama "A Dangerous Experiment" will be shown.

The Princess will show tonight "The Necklace of Ramezes" one of the most remarkable 3-reel dramas ever produced. This film shows the pursuit of a pair of criminals from New York through England, France and Italy. A necklace is stolen from a mummy in a New York Museum and the thief flees to England where she is joined by another crook. Among the many incidents which crowd rapidly upon one another, are the clever transfer of the necklace from one crook to another before the very eyes of the detective by means of a wine glass; a hand to hand fight in a gondola and a flight over the roofs of the houses of Rome, in which one thief loses his life. The scenes are actually photographed among some of the world's most historic scenes. Mariam Nesbit and Marc McDermitt take the principal leads and are supported by an unusually strong caste. Tomorrow the second of the "Adventures of Kathlyn" will be shown. In this installment are shown two remarkable and thrilling encounters with wild beasts. The blowing up of the lion's den is very exciting.

Signs Point to Relief Of Congestion In American Cities

By Dr. CHARLES W. ELIOT, President Emeritus Harvard University

THE inexpedient congestion of population in some American cities is not yet sensibly relieved, but there are many signs of improvement in this respect, such, for instance, as the placing of new industrial plants in the country or in small cities and making these plants moderate in size. The telephone and telegraph, the automobile, the parcel post and the local electric railways for both passengers and freight will surely relieve this congestion in time. Due consideration for the public health and the national efficiency requires the better distribution of factories and their operatives.

NOT A SINGLE ARGUMENT FOR FURTHER RESTRICTION OF IMMI-GRATION HAVE I YET SEEN WHICH DOES NOT VIOLATE THE PLAIN-EST PRINCIPLES OF SOUND AMERICAN INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT AND ALSO PROPOSE TO ABANDON OR MAIM THE NOBLE POLICY OF THE UNITED STATES WHICH HAS MADE THIS COUNTRY THE REF-UGE OF THE OPPRESSED, THE HOPE OF THE MULTITUDES WHO CANNOT YET FIND FREEDOM AND COMFORT IN THEIR NATIVE LANDS AND THE BEST SCHOOL IN THE WORLD FOR THE SAFE DE-VELOPMENT OF FREE INSTITUTIONS.

Two Decisions of Supreme Court Have Killed Food and Drug Law

By Dr. HARVEY W. WILEY, Pure Food Expert

THE supreme court gave a body blow to the drug section of the law when it announced in the Johnson cancer case that the clause forbidding false and misleading statements APPLIED ONLY TO THE CONSTITUENTS OF THE MEDICINE AND NOT TO ITS DRUG PROP-ERTIES. Congress at once proceeded to correct the fault pointed out by enacting a clause as an amendment, bringing curative claims into the scope of the law.

I SINCERELY HOPE THAT SIMILAR ACTION
WILL BE TAKEN IN THE CASE OF THE PRESENT
DECISION. TO PERMIT THE UNRESTRICTED AD-DITION OF POISONS TO FOODS UNLESS SUCH CAN BE SPECIFICALLY INJURIOUS PARALYZES THAT SECTION OF THE LAW RELATING TO HARMFUL ADULTERATIONS AS COMPLETELY AS THE FORMER DECISION PARALYZED THE DRUG SECTION.

In these two decisions the supreme court has KILLED THE FOOD AND DRUG LAW. Under the present decision a man may add traces of arsenic to food with impunity. Strychnine and other drugs of a poisonous character also can be thus added. The fault, according to the supreme court decision, consists in the phrase "which may prove harmful to health." The people should call upon congress immediately to STRIKE OUT THAT PHRASE.

Men Who Enlist as Soldiers Should Be Given Instruction In Trades

By HENRY H. DOAN, Major Medical Corps National Guard of Pennsylvania

FROM an economic point of view a man is but POORLY FITTED TO TAKE UP THE BURDEN OF LIFE after serving one or more enlistments in the cavalry or infantry. His record as a soldier may have been excellent, but there are but few things to which he may turn his hand in civil life. The demand for unskilled labor is much less than the supply.

I FEEL ASSURED THAT IF THE MEN WERE GIVEN INSTRUCTION
IN THE TRADES MUCH OF THE PREJUDICE AGAINST THE SERVICE WOULD SOON BE FORGOTTEN. PARENTS WOULD BE ANXIOUS THAT THEIR SONS SHOULD ENLIST.

This instruction need interfere in no way with the duties incident to military work. An hour or two during the morning or afternoon under a competent instructor would make the average man a FAIRLY EFFICIENT MECHANIC by the time his enlistment would expire.
Meanwhile he would have been kept out of all varieties of mischief, for while in garrison he has considerable idle time on his hands.

ALMOST ALL YOUNG AMERICANS TAKE NATURALLY TO THE SOL-DIER BUSINESS FROM THE EARLIEST CHILDHOOD, FOR THERE IS SOMETHING PECULIARLY ATTRACTIVE ABOUT MILITARY LIFE COM-MON TO ALL MEN WHO HAVE RED BLOOD IN THEIR VEINS, AND I AM
OF THE OPINION THAT THE OPPORTUNITY OF LEARNING A TRADE AND AT THE SAME TIME OF BEING A SOLDIER WOULD APPEAL TO A LARGE NUMBER OF YOUTHS.

Future of Race Can Be Enhanced Only Through Character Building

By Professor A. L. KROEBER of Department of Anthropology, University of California

INDIVIDUAL ENDEAVOR AND HIGH IDEALS ARE THE ONLY THINGS THAT WILL MAKE BETTER HUMAN BEINGS. NINETY-NINE PER CENT OF WHAT IS COMMONLY ATTRIBUTED TO HEREDITY HAS NOTHING WHATEVER TO DO WITH IT AND IS MERELY A MATTER OF ENVIRONMENT.

Scientists have run riot with the idea until they fail to distinguish between heredity, which comes from the inside, and inheritance, which, like a fortune, comes from the outside. Civilization is an inheritance pure and simple, not caused in the slightest degree by heredity.

EUGENICS APPEAL TO MEN WHO ARE MORALLY LONG HAIR-ED AND TO THE WOMEN WHO ARE INTELLECTUALLY SHORT HAIR-ED. IT IS EASIER TO TALK OF BREEDING IMPROVED HUMAN BEINGS
THAN TO BEGIN BY IMPROVING ONESELF AND TRAINING ONE'S CHILDREN. THE FUTURE OF THE HUMAN RACE CAN BE ENHANCED
ONLY THROUGH CHARACTER BUILDING BY INDIVIDUALS AND COU-RAGEOUS ADHERENCE TO IDEALS BY NATIONS.

Obituary.

Virgil B. Bodine, son of Elisha and Mary Stiles Bodine, was born in Hamilton County, Ohio, near Montgomery, Nov. 14th, 1826, and died at his home in Rushville, Ind., March 11th 1914.

He removed with his parents to Dearborn County, Ind., in 1836. Went to Cincinnati in 1843, and united with the Fifth Presbyterian church in 1846, Rev. McDonald, pastor.

He was married in Cincinnati by Rev. McDonald, Jan. 23rd, 1849, to Darcus A. Pool, who preceded him to the "Home beyond" on Nov. 9th, 1902. To this union five children were born: Horace E., Virgil Clinton, George E., Ella M., and Florence A., now the wife of Rev. F. B. Stearns, the evangelist, all of whom excepting Horace and George who died in infancy, and one brother Jeremiah M., and one sister, Mrs. A. P. Wright, survive him.

He moved with his family to Rushville, Ind., April 5th, 1855, and united with the First Presbyterian church of that city by letter on the following Sabbath. Was elected an elder of this church in 1857. Moved back to Cincinnati in Feb. 1864, transferring his membership to the Central Presbyterian church, and worshipped with that congregation until Jan. 1867, when he returned to Rushville, bringing his letter to the Rushville Presbyterian Church and the same year was re-elected a ruling elder which office he held to the day of his death, a period of nearly sixty years.

This church also made him a life member of the American Bible Society. He often represented the interests of his church at Presbytery and Synod and was elected by Whitewater Presbytery as commissioner to the General Assembly in Baltimore in 1873, and again to the Assembly in Saratoga in 1879.

Mr. Bodine was actively identified with the business interests of Rushville from 1855 to 1908, except the three years spent in Cincinnati. In 1908, he sold his interest in the Boot and Shoe House of V. B. Bodine &

Son to his son V. C. Bodine. At the time of his retirement from business, he was the oldest man in point of business years in Rush County.

He served the people as trustee of Rushville Township from 1870 to 1873. He was one of the original movers for the establishment of a High School in Rushville, and member of the school board that organized Rushville's first and present High School system, that erected the old Graham High School building, and called Prof. David Graham as its first superintendent.

He was initiated into the order of Odd Fellows in Cincinnati in 1852, transferring his membership in 1872 to the Rushville lodge, who assisted at his funeral.

At his request, Rev. George A. Beattie, D. D., of Atlanta Ga., who had been his pastor for seven years preached the funeral sermon, and officiated at his funeral, March 14th, assisted by Rev. J. B. Meacham, his present pastor.

The great profusion of floral offerings, and the large attendance at his funeral attested the high esteem and affection in which he was held by the church and the community.

He was a devoted, consecrated, christian man and unselfishly devoted to his family in a very marked degree. His genial, kindly and cheerful disposition, his neighborly ways, his sterling integrity, and his true manliness won for him confidence, respect and esteem of very many friends, and many are the hearts that are grieved at his loss.

In his business life, there was a plain straightforwardness and a sterling honesty that compel respect. He was always a champion of the best business, religious, fraternal and moral interests of his home city, and yet the cares and interests of business were never permitted to interfere with the business of the King. He gave liberally of his means, unsparingly of his time and unselfishly of his life to the church he so dearly loved, and to every good cause. He was a loyal Presbyterian, always at church and prayermeeting, and was one of the leading spirits in all of the activities of the church. During the past year, when confined to his room, his present pastor said of him, "He has helped me preach many a sermon, going as I often did to my pulpit from his room, or bedside, strengthened by his prayers like a benediction on my head."

He bore the pains of his prolonged illness with remarkable Christian faith and fortitude. This was a long life with abundant satisfactions; a life whose gentleness made it great; a rare life worthy of long remembrance.

3 GENERATIONS TO BE IN PARADE

Boy Scouts, Sons of Veterans and Veterans Will Be Represented At G. A. R. Encampment

ARRANGEMENTS COMPLETE

Annual Campfire Will be Held Second Night—10,000 Visitors Expected in Indianapolis

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, March 30—That three generations will for the first time parade at a G. A. R. encampment was made known today when the detailed program of the event was made public. Boy Scouts, Sons of Veterans and the veterans themselves will march here when the encampment is held May 6, 7 and 8. The Sons of Veterans will have charge of the encampment for the first time, this year, and also for the first time, the Boy Scouts, in many instances the sons of veterans, will participate.

Having in mind the advanced age of the veterans—all of them are past the three-score mark—Col. Frank Shellhouse in charge of the parade arrangements, has determined that the line of march shall be short enough so that it will take less than an hour to pass a given point. The veterans are feeble, and each parade threatens to be the last one.

A special committee of Boy Scouts will meet old comrades the opening day and escort them to the various headquarters.

The encampment is expected to bring more than 10,000 visitors to Indianapolis, for besides the G. A. R. and the Sons of Veterans, the encampments of the Woman's Relief Corps, the Ladies of the G. A. R. and the Ladies Auxiliary of the Sons of Veterans will be held simultaneously.

At two p. m. of the first day the W. R. C. will present the Lincoln Memorial Tablet with an appropriate program at the State House. From four to six p. m. there will be a reception by the W. R. C. and the Ladies of the G. A. R. to national and department commanders of the G. A. R. There will be music for these events by the Manual Training and Shortridge High school orchestra.

At eight p. m. an open meeting for all organizations and the public will be held in Tomlinson Hall. Former Mayor Charles A. Bookwalter will preside. Mayor Joseph E. Bell and Governor Samuel Ralston will deliver welcoming addresses. The address of welcome from the Ben Harrison Camp, No. 358, Sons of Veterans, will be delivered by Commander Jesse Martin. The invitation to the G. A. R. to attend the encampment as guests of the Sons of Veterans came from the Ben Harrison Camp.

There will response to the welcoming address by former Judge Daniel Comstock, Indiana Commander of the G. A. R.; Mrs. Estella I. Hoffman, department commander of the W. R. C.; Mrs. Elizabeth Howard, department president of the Ladies of the G. A. R.; Mrs. Emma Stuart Finch division president of the Sons of Veterans Auxiliary, and William Hensche, division commander of the Sons of Veterans. The response will be short and will be interspersed with musical numbers by Mrs. Lura S. Barr; Miss Martha Harvey, Danville; the Grand Army Quartet of Logansport, the Moorman Orchestra, and the Indianapolis Newsboys band.

The annual campfire will be held the night of the second day, with Department Commander Comstock presiding for the G. A. R. campfire and Past Division Commander Newton J. McGuire for the Sons of Veterans. The third day will be given over to the transaction of business and adjournment.

TELLS HOW MUCH TO FEED BABY

Machine Solves a Problem of Mothers the World Over.

REDUCED TO EXACT SCIENCE

Cornell Professor Before Physicians' Convention Demonstrates Wonderful Device—Physiologists Are Impressed by Report on Brain Discovery Made by Dr. John W. Crile of Cleveland.

Science, that indomitable force against which barriers heretofore impregnable are crumbling steadily and laying bare stores of vital knowledge, has at last mastered the problem of every mother—namely, the proper feeding of her baby. So it was announced by Dr. J. R. Murlin of Cornell university to the medical savants who attended the closing session of the three day convention of the Federation of American Societies For Experimental Biology at the University of Pennsylvania.

By a delicate system of chemical calculations, Dr. Murlin gave out, which he obtained after perfecting an incubator-like apparatus for the study of energy evolved by an infant's body, he has been able to determine scientifically the food requirements of the newly born infant, even of the premature baby.

To Study Baby's Needs.

The infant that is not responding to the customary diets can be put into the device, and an exact knowledge of just what nutritious substances he needs can be procured. Baby can play about in the boxlike machine just as the whiff takes him. He can roll about, kick, cry, laugh, go to sleep—anything that might be expected of him—but all the while that mystic process is going on.

Dr. Murlin explained that the constituents of the air inhaled and exhaled by the infant inside were measured chemically—how, only a man with the cipher of ten syllable words at his finger ends could understand. From these measurements it is a simple matter for the physician to prescribe for his little patient a diet that is bound to start him on his way to robustness.

Much the same kind of research work was reported by Dr. A. S. Loevenhart of the University of Wisconsin. He had a similar apparatus, respiration chamber, as it were, to work with as the one made by Dr. Murlin, though the former confined all his observations to small animals.

Dr. Crile's Brain Discovery.

The physiologists of the federation marveled at a discovery made by Dr. John W. Crile of Cleveland, who as one of the greatest surgeons in the country won international fame as the originator of local anaesthesia. Dr. Crile announced that after examining more than 700 brains he had been able to group certain organisms that were interdependent, co-ordinated with one another.

He called this group the "kinetic system" and named the brain, adrenal, thyroid gland, liver and pancreas syndrome as the organisms which composed it. He found by his experiments that whatever hurt one of these affected the others. Some sort of sympathetic relationship, he said, existed between them.

BAR "GOD," SAYS DR. ELIOT.

Would Substitute "Our Father" in New Faith Based on Fact.

Nothing so radiant from a high source has appeared in years as the supplementary article on "The Future of Religion," which Dr. Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard, has prepared and which has been published by the American Unitarian association.

Dr. Eliot would take away the term "God" and use in its place "Our Father." His twentieth century Christianity does not believe in the garden of Eden. Dr. Eliot says God did not make man out of the dust of the ground, nor did he give into the hands of Moses the Ten Commandments; neither did the sun stand still for Joshua, nor did Jonah abide in the whale.

There will be no miracles in this twentieth century religion. "Men of science," says Dr. Eliot, "have no faith in magic or miracles."

The brotherhood of man will be the outcome of the new religion, declares the Harvard scholar.

originating in the most ancient Christian city in the British Islands, Dr. Patterson said he was the successor to St. Patrick who drove the snakes out of Ireland, but declared that was one snake he did not drive out, one of the most deadly, treacherous, sneaky and venomous of snakes in Irish moss or American sage brush—whiskey.

"The club that God put in my hand," he added in part, "was the Catch-my-Pal movement, known under my name. When Father Curran, started his temperance movement, there was a Father Sheehan who started a branch in Armagh. He told me repeatedly that he had no secret as to how he brought men in to the temperance movement. But I buttonholed him one day, and in a rich Irish brogue Father Sheehan said his secret was that 'the min, begorra, belaved him ter be in earnest'."

Dr. Patterson related how a John Elliott in his parish pointed out to him one evening five of the worst drunkards loafing under a lamp post as subjects for his good offices for temperance. He thereupon took John along and talked to these men.

"How was Andrew caught? By Christ. How was Philip and Nathaniel caught? By Andrew. Did not Christ catch the woman at Samaria for purity, and did not this woman catch her relatives and friends and bring them to the Lord? I caught my pals for Jesus Christ, on July 6, 1909 under that lamp post," said Dr. Patterson.

"Elliott told me to go to these men for a joke but it turned to the glory of God. From Friday evening, July 6, 1909, the time I saw those men and got a heart-to-heart talk with them, until Friday July 13, the night, at the sound of the curfew, I prayed as I never prayed before, the men came. It is the moderate drinker that is the curse of his country. If there were no moderate drinkers there would be no immoderate drinkers. This is what makes the drunkard. If all moderate drinkers would sign pledges, the backbone of the liquor traffic would be broken in the United States.

"The first pledge I gave these men was that of total abstinence. They were then to go out and catch the biggest drunkard they could find. You too are your brother's keeper. I would not allow any of those six men to sign unless they agreed to go out and catch their pals."

Dr. Patterson then told of the rapid growth of the movement. "From six men the movement went on to thirty-one more caught by the beginners. These thirty-one were the terrors of their homes and little children. They were the damnation of the little ones. Yet these men were made the instruments to save others. Now you people here, can't you help along your brothers? You cannot love God with your heart, soul, mind and strength, unless you love your neighbor as yourself. Those thirty-one boys brought in 105. They caught their pals. Those men walked single file into my hallway. After they signed the pledge they cheered. People thought we were having a good time. And so we were. The best of all times."

"We will see this thing through," was adopted as a slogan. The Little button, with 'Catch-my-Pal' and 'Total Abstinence' on it, was worn when the first branch was formed. In six weeks, more than 600 men were brought in. The wives and children began to be happy. The merchants did more business with these reformed men. The saloons in Armagh began to be idle on Saturday pay nights. In this city of 8,000 people there were seventy-two saloons.

"I have noticed the American public standing in front of a baseball score board watching the little electric bulbs tell the plays as they occurred. These people took a great interest in this game. If the people in this country took one-half as much interest in the game of Christ as they did in baseball, the United States would pass through the greatest revolution the world ever witnessed."

"We held weekly recruiting meetings. Soon 400 branches were formed. Then the membership grew; first 500 at Bainbridge, then 525 at Ballina, until 1150 was reached. Among them were five reformed jail birds. There was a reduction in drunkenness and crime, and 50 per cent. reduction in cases of cruelty to children."

In conclusion Dr. Patterson asked all to take the pledge and to repeat the slogan, "We Will See This Through." He asked that all in favor of a saloonless nation by 1920 arise and the vote was unanimous.

Samuel L. Trabue presided at the Men's meeting and James E. Watson introduced the speaker at the evening meeting.

Before starting on his address last night, Dr. Patterson explained his position on the Home Rule. He stated that all Irish protestants are opposed to it. He explained that there are one million protestants and three million Catholics in Ireland. He stated that the Protestants pay three fourths of the taxes and would be represented in the new parliament under home rule by one-fourth. He stated that it was the same proposition as the United States had to contend with England before they rebelled. According to Dr. Patterson, the home rule in Ireland would mean taxation without representation to the Protestants, and because of this he was opposed to it.

WOMEN MAY BE STRONG

and enjoy life whether in the home or business world if they can keep at bay those ailments peculiar to their sex. If every woman realized how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, that simple remedy made from roots and herbs, goes to the root of the trouble and overcomes such symptoms as backache, head aches, nervousness and irritability, they would be healthier, happier and stronger. If you suffer from any form of female ills why don't you try it? It will pay you to do so (Advertisement.)

DORMITORY MEN IN ORGANIZATION

Forty-two at Indianapolis Y. M. C. A. Band Together and Meet Once Each Month

FEED IS ONE OF FEATURES.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, March 30.—Forty-two men living in the Y. M. C. A. dormitory here have banded together in a compact organization to meet once every month for dinner at the association cafe. The purpose of the meetings will be three-fold: To develop congenial fellowship among the dormitory men; to promote social and educational fellowship, and to encourage the spirit of brotherhood generally.

At each of these meetings a guest of honor will be present to address the young men on current subjects. With this drawing card and the promise of "good eats at 35 cents a plate" the men are expected to turn out.

Various schemes have been tried to interest the dormitory men in club life, but with indifferent success. As a rule they are young business or professional men. There are a few students. They have formed their acquaintances away from the association, and spend their evenings away from there to a great extent. For this reason, it has been hard to interest them in association social functions.

BOY IS HORRIBLY SCALDED

Everett Loudermilk of Spiceland Will Probably Not Recover.

Not much hope is held out for the recovery of Everett Loudermilk, age 12 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Loudermilk of Spiceland, who fell backwards into a vat of boiling sugar water at a sugar camp near Spiceland. The boy's screams of pain brought assistance at once, but his body could not be pulled from the vat before he was horribly burned. A doctor was summoned at once, but could not do much to relieve the pain. Little hope is held out for the recovery of the boy.

Reasons and Effects

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., March 30.—Dr. J. N. Hurty, state health commissioner, who is fighting disease as an employe of the state, believes that aside from the pain and loss of life there is a big economic loss when a family is swept by sickness. He emphasizes his belief that the farmer or banker who watches carefully after the health of his hogs or the prosperity of his neighborhood should for the same pecuniary reason insist on precaution against loss from sickness:

SMITH AND HIS TYPHOID

BY DR. J. N. HURTY.

His name was Smith. He lived in Indiana. He was a farmer. His house was built flat upon the ground. No underneath ventilation. There was a small cellar. It was musty. Vegetables, rotten and unrotten were stored in it. The house was heated by an "air-tight" stove. All windows were fastened down. All window cracks were calked with rags.

The barn was 328 feet from the kitchen door. There was a big pile of manure against the barn. There were maggots in the manure. Flies, thousands of flies, were born in this manure. In the barnyard were cows and pigs. They waded in barnyard pulp. Just 53 feet from the kitchen door was a privy. It was dilapidated. Clouds of flies surrounded it.

Under the back porch was a dog well. Smith didn't know its depth. An old sock was stretched over the pump spout. It was there to strain out worms and little water bugs. The water had a funny taste. A garbage tub stood just outside the kitchen door. There were maggots in it. Flies were born by thousands.

One day Smith's daughter came down with typhoid fever. A doctor was employed. Medicines were purchased. Mrs. Smith did the nursing. She also cooked for her husband, her son and a hired man. Mrs. Smith was worn out. She took typhoid. The daughter died. Mrs. Smith died. The son took typhoid, he survived. When Mrs. Smith took down a nurse was employed. She stayed after Mrs. Smith died to nurse the son.

The cost. Doctor bills $410.00. Two funerals $416. Court value of the mother's life (average court judgment) $4,600. Court value of the son's life $5,000. Loss of time (estimated) $300. Total $10,889.60. Does it pay to be insanitary? Does induced sickness and early death tend to produce wealth and happiness?

What Hisses Sound Like to an Actor.
In the American Magazine David Warfield, giving his stage experiences, tells how terrible it is from the actor's point of view to be hissed:

"I next appeared at the Wigwam, telling stories and giving imitations. I came a terrible cropper, something fearful. I was second in the bill, which is the worst place but one. I shall never forget the anxiety I felt on that occasion as I stood in the wings waiting for my turn to go on. At last I appeared before the footlights. The audience was drifting in, shuffling in in a desultory way. I could not get its attention. It was awful, awful. The few friends I had there applauded me, but the others hissed. It sounded as if 10,000 steam pipes had burst. A hiss to a sensitive man—and all actors are sensitive since all are vain—is like the strike of a rattlesnake. It is so venomous, so cruel, so unnecessary! It is as if you had done the people out in front an injury with malice prepense instead of having sincerely tried to please them. You don't even dare to face your own mother; you're so dreadfully guilty."

around the world seeking whom he can scare and tossing himself into every place of advantage by bluster and bluff."

"Americans champions of Great Britain" have sought to "manufacture sentiment" and actively lobbied to repeal the Panama canal tolls exemption for American coastwise shipping, Representative Doremus of Michigan, a leading Democrat today declared in the house Chairman of the Democratic national congressional campaign committee, his speech in open opposition to President Wilson was second only in importance to the Democratic side to that of Leader Underwood during the free tolls fight.

"It is a source of much regret that I do not find myself in harmony with the president," Doremus said, "because of the great respect I entertain for him and the admiration I feel for his splendid ability, sincerity and patriotism, my inclination is always to follow him. By reason, however, of convictions formed long ago, and which I still entertain, I feel it my duty to oppose this bill."

"After the law was passed it was boldly proclaimed that we had violated our treaty with Great Britain. With these men it mattered not that Great Britain had practically admitted our right to make the exemption. After this, the task imposed upon American champions of Great Britain was certainly a stupendous one."

That the Carnegie peace endowment was the prime mover was charged by Doremus.

"This self-constituted guardian of the national honor was sandbagging the department's efforts by vigorously upholding the British view," he said, "the Carnegie peace endowment as an institution does not justify its right to exist by antagonizing our own government in an international controversy."

"I repudiate and denounce the attempts made in this country to convince the people that the United States is an outlaw among the nations."

Doremus charged that the transcontinental railroads would be the beneficiaries and the people the victims of the repeal.

"If the American people had suspected that the Hay-Pauncefote treaty gave Great Britain equal rights with us not a shovelful of dirt would have been turned on the isthmus."

Sacred Deer.

From time immemorial deer have been held in reverent regard by the Japanese. Herds are kept in compounds, and the highest respect is paid to the animals. In olden times the shogun gave the people such a strict order to protect the sacred animals that if any one happened to hurt or kill them he was put to death on the spot. It was a period of terror. Even at the present day the deer are so tame and abundant in the shrine grounds that they in fine weather stroll round to the streets by twos and threes and surround passersby, asking for food and even taking the persons' sleeves in their mouths affectionately. Once a year some of the deer are caught by means of a net with a handle by several tamers (in service of the Kasuga shrine office) and taken to an inclosure, where their splendid horns are cut off with a saw, while a crowd of spectators watch the work with breathless interest (admission 10 sen, equal to about 5 cents). This done, some of the sacred horns are, as a custom, awarded to the spectators by means of lottery.

Disillusion.

The unmarried woman who shall be the subject of this anecdote was fixing herself up to go out in the evening. A certain man was going to call for her, and though the occasion was somewhat spoiled by the fact that they would have to take her little niece along she nevertheless took the usual care of her complexion, hair and eyes, for the man was trembling on the verge of a proposal. The trio—uncle, auntie's beau and auntie's niece—walked along the street until they came to one of those all night photograph galleries. You know how awful a person looks standing in the ghastly glare of the mercury tube lights that they put in the windows of such places? Well, they paused in that awful greeny-yellow light. And the little niece said to auntie's beau:

"Ooo-ooo, look! Auntie looks just like she does when she first gets up in the morning!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

 * E. R. CASADY HOLDS BIG * * SPRING OPENING TODAY. * *****

E. R. Casady's annual spring opening this afternoon attracted a big crowd to the store where on the second floor the latest fashions in women's ready-to-wear garments were shown on living models.

The store was most tastefully decorated. Natural ferns and wild roses were used to good advantage and expressed the sprightliness and freshness of the spring season, as did the showings in women's wearing apparel.

White arbors adorned the windows and wound about them were wreaths of wild roses which were beautiful in striking contrast to the colorings in the women's garments which were displayed in the windows.

White lattice work, covered with roses, which was run along the edge and hung from the top of the first floor, took away all the bareness that naturally attaches to a high ceiling. The ledges on this floor were attractively arrayed in the latest showings in carpets and rugs, dress goods and muslin underwear.

The lattice work was used with the same pleasing effect in the front part of the second floor where the style show was to take place, but because of the crowd, the showing had to be made downstairs. On the ledges here as downstairs goods were displayed to excellent advantage. Chairs were arranged around the sides and down the center of the room for the guests.

Music on the first floor was furnished by Wagoner's orchestra and on the second floor there was a graphanola. Favors of sweet peas, obtained in a local green house, were distributed by Miss Rita Riddle and Miss Frances Neutzenhelzer.

The models were Miss Pauline Fells, Miss Marie Clawson, Mrs. Ruby Davis, Mrs. L. E. Wallace and Miss Phyllis Casady, daughter of E. R. Casady.

VICE COMMITTEE TO ANNOUNCE PLANS

Will Probably Call For Wiping Out of Segregated District at Evansville.

MAYOR IS ON OPPOSITION

(By United Press.)

Evansville, Ind., March 30.—Following speeches to be made here tomorrow by Clifford G. Roe of Chicago, former prosecutor there, the local vice committee, appointed a year ago by the churches, will probably announce what plans, if any, it will attempt to follow out. It is suggested that the committee may ask Mayor Bosse to wipe out the segregated. Should the committee decide on this course, it is believed it would fail, for the mayor has gone on record as opposed to any other plan than that of segregation.

Roe was active in Chicago during the white slave investigation. He will speak in the afternoon and evening. The ministers are planning to ask Roe's advice.
